CHAPTER 1

Welcome to your new website 01

Your website now has two sides. The public site is what customers see. The admin is your private control room at `pandoratemplates.com/admin`, where you change anything on the site. It works much like WordPress: you log in, edit, click Publish, and the change is live within seconds.

What's on your website

Homepage

`pandoratemplates.com`

Your shop front, with all your templates. Built from sections you can rearrange.

Product sales pages

`/wedding_planner`

The animated page your Instagram ads link to. Each product gets one.

Your own pages

`/ultimateweddingplanner`

Any extra page or landing page you build yourself, with any address you like.

Blog

`/blog`

Articles that help people find you on Google.

Checkout

`/checkout`

Where customers enter their details and promo codes, then pay.

Legal and contact

`/terms` · `/privacy` · `/refund` · `/contact`

Ordinary pages you can edit any time.

Three words to know

Word	What it means
Publish	Saves your changes and makes them visible to everyone, within a few seconds.
Save draft	Saves your work privately. The public site doesn't change until you publish.
Slug	The last part of a page's address. Slug `wedding_planner` → `pandoratemplates.com/wedding_planner`. Use lowercase letters, numbers, `-` or `_`.

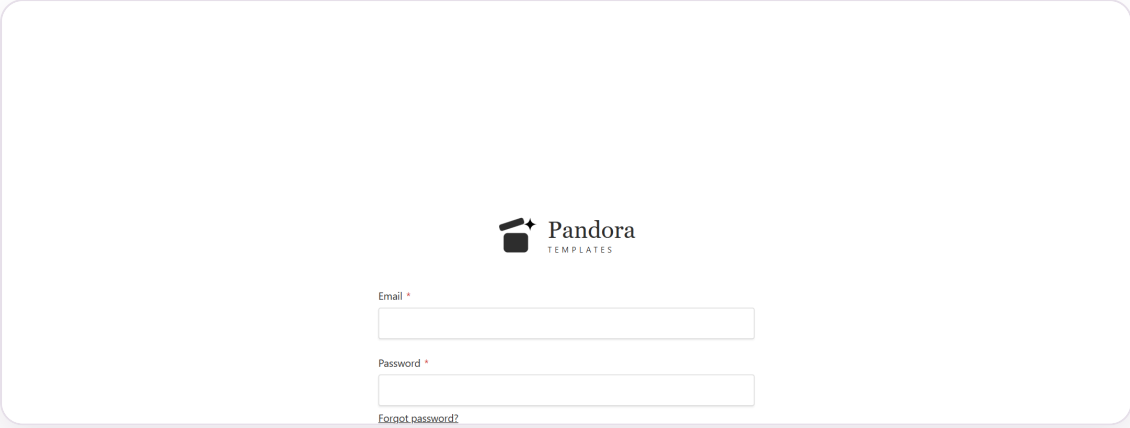

Good to know

You can't break the design by editing. The site handles layout, colours, animations and mobile automatically. If you leave a section empty (for example, no testimonials yet), it simply disappears from the page.

CHAPTER 2

Logging in and finding your way 02

1. Go to `pandoratemplates.com/admin`.
2. Enter your email and password. The first time, the screen asks you to create your account.
3. Forgot your password? Click Forgot password on the login screen and you'll get a reset email.

The login screen

The dashboard

Everything is grouped into four areas. The ☰ menu (top left) opens the same list as a sidebar, plus the 💰 Affiliate earnings page.

Dashboard with the sidebar menu open

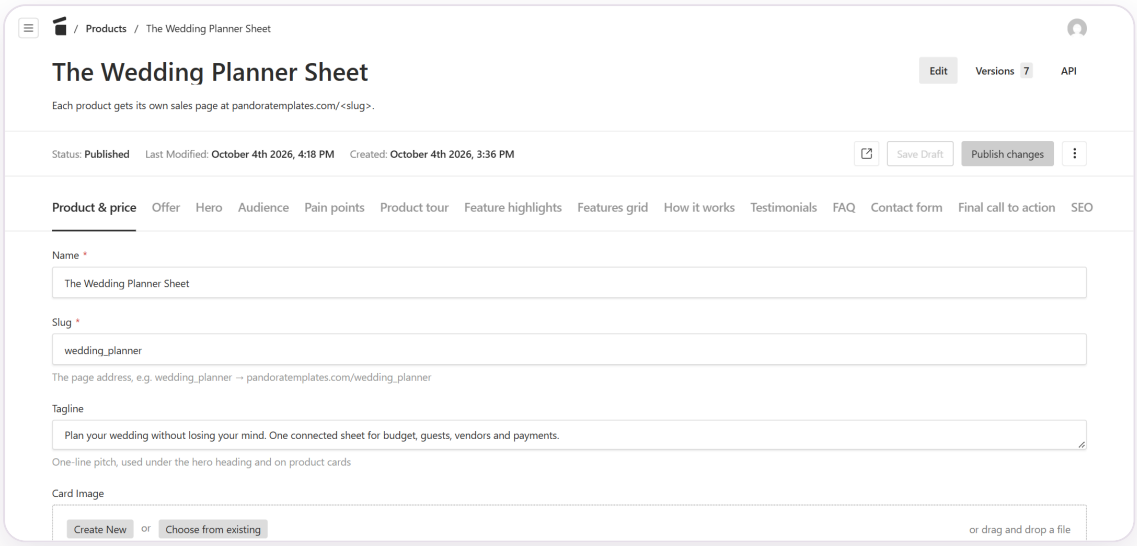

Area	What's inside

Shop	Products (your sales pages and prices), Orders, Affiliates, Product files (the paid downloads)
Content	Pages, Blog posts, Images & videos
Inbox	Contact messages from the website form
Settings	Admin users (who can log in), Site settings (WhatsApp, menu, footer, tracking)

Editing the Wedding Planner page 03

Everything on `/wedding_planner` comes from one place: Shop → Products → The Wedding Planner Sheet. Each tab along the top is one section of the page, in the same order customers see them.

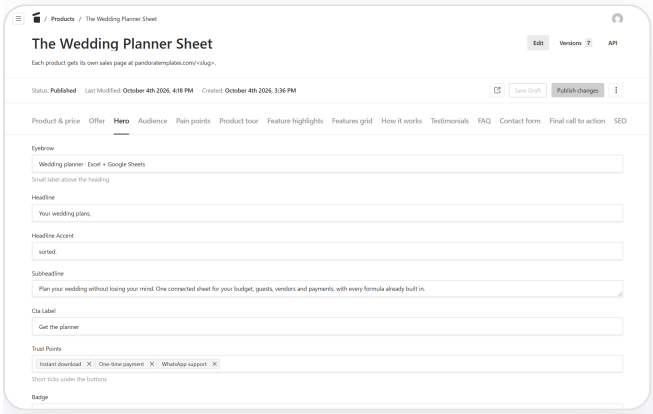

The product editor. Each tab is one section of the sales page.

Tab	What it controls on the page
Product & price	Name, page address (slug), short pitch, regular price, "What's included" list, the paid file, the Google Sheets copy link
Offer	Limited-time price, end date, sales limit (Chapter 4)
Hero	The big headline at the top, the button text, the ticks, the floating badge, an optional background image or video
Audience	The "Designed for brides, grooms, families…" line
Pain points	The "Sound familiar?" cards on the dark background
Product tour	The 5 tabs (Budget, Guests…): headline, text and an optional screenshot or video for each
Feature highlights	3–4 big features, each with a picture and bullet points
Features grid · How it works	The small feature cards and the 4 steps
Testimonials · FAQ	Customer reviews (real ones only) and questions and answers

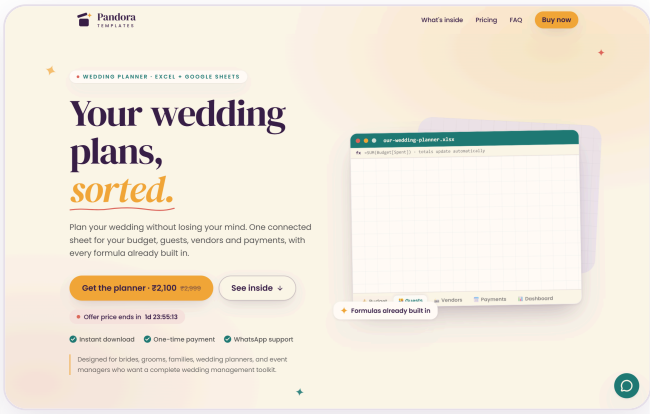

Contact form · Final call to action	Turn the contact form on or off, and the closing "Open the box" banner
SEO	The title and description shown on Google and when the link is shared on WhatsApp or Instagram

Change the headline (try it now)

1. Open Products → The Wedding Planner Sheet and click the Hero tab.
2. Change Headline (e.g. "Your dream wedding,") and Headline accent (the gold italic part, e.g. "sorted.").
3. Click Publish changes (top right), then open `/wedding_planner`. Your new headline is there.

…and how it looks on the website

Lists you can reorder

FAQs, features, pain points and tabs are lists. Use Add to create an item, drag the ⋮⋮ handle to reorder, and the ··· menu to duplicate or delete.

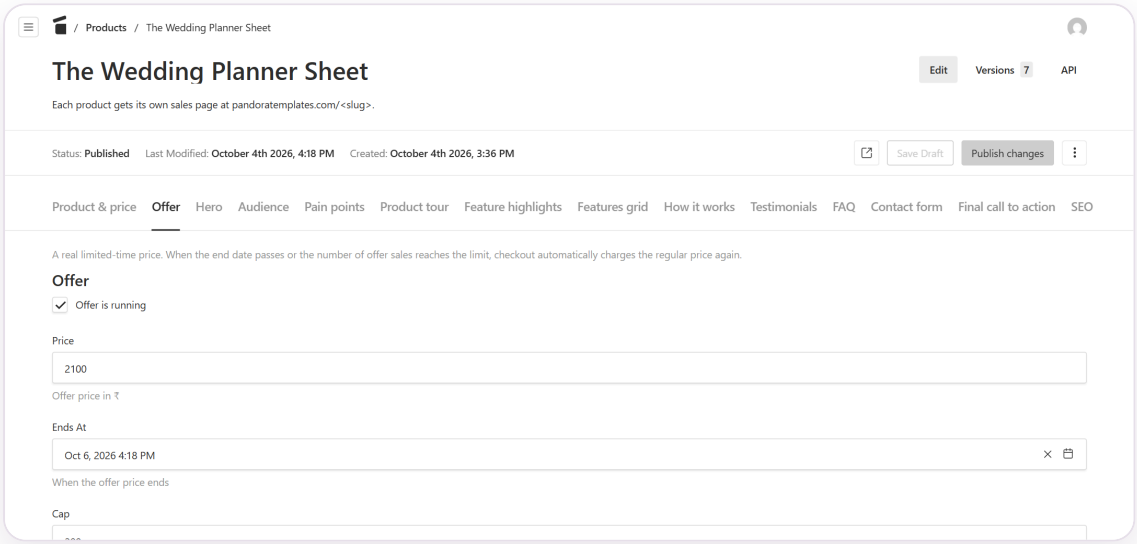

CHAPTER 4

Limited-time offers 04

Run a lower price for a set time, a set number of sales, or both. The website shows a live countdown and an "X of Y sold" bar, and switches back to the regular price by itself when the offer ends.

Start an offer

1. On the Product & price tab, set Price to your normal (regular) price, e.g. ₹2,999.
2. Open the Offer tab and tick Offer is running.
3. Enter the offer Price (e.g. ₹2,100) and choose Ends At, the date and time the offer finishes.
4. Optional: set a Cap, the number of sales allowed at the offer price (e.g. 200).
5. Keep Show countdown and Show "X of Y sold" ticked, then click Publish changes.

The Offer tab

On the website: offer price, crossed-out regular price, live countdown and the real "sold" counter

How an offer ends

- ✓ When the end date passes, or the cap is reached, checkout charges the regular price again. You don't need to do anything.
- ✓ To end an offer early, untick Offer is running and publish.
- ✓ For a new offer, set a new end date (and cap) and publish again.

"Recent purchase" popups

Why all of this uses real numbers only

India's 2023 guidelines on dark patterns ban "false urgency", such as fake countdowns that reset for every visitor or invented "someone just bought" alerts. Meta can also reject Instagram ads that use them. That's why your countdown, sold counter and popups only ever show real dates and real orders. They protect your ads and build trust.

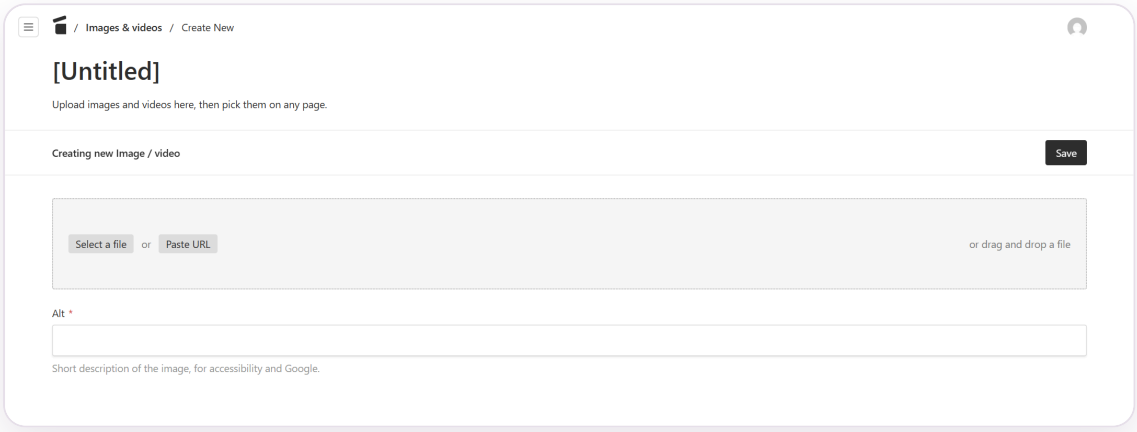

CHAPTER 5

Images, videos and the file buyers receive

05

Images and videos for the website

1. Go to Content → Images & videos → Create new (or click any image field and choose Upload new).
2. Drop in the file and fill in Alt, a short description such as "Couple planning their wedding on a laptop". It helps Google and screen readers.
3. Click Save, then pick it in the field where you want it to appear (e.g. a Product tour tab).

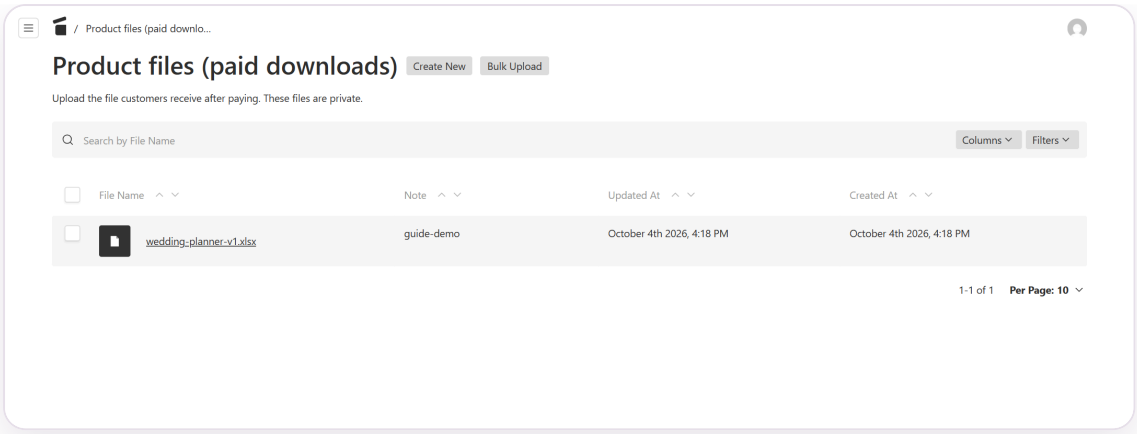

Uploading an image or video

Best results

Photos: JPG or WebP, around 1600 px wide. Videos: MP4, muted, under 4 MB, 5–10 seconds, looping. Your developer gave you ready-made AI video prompts (`VIDEO_PROMPTS.md`) in the brand style. Where no image is uploaded, sales pages show an animated spreadsheet preview instead, never an empty box.

The file customers download

1. Go to Shop → Product files → Create new and upload your `.xlsx` . These files are private: nobody can download them without paying.
2. Open your product, Product & price tab, and choose it in Download file.
3. Paste your Google Sheets "make a copy" link (it ends in `/copy`) into Google Sheets copy URL.
4. Click Publish changes.

Product files: your private paid downloads

How delivery works

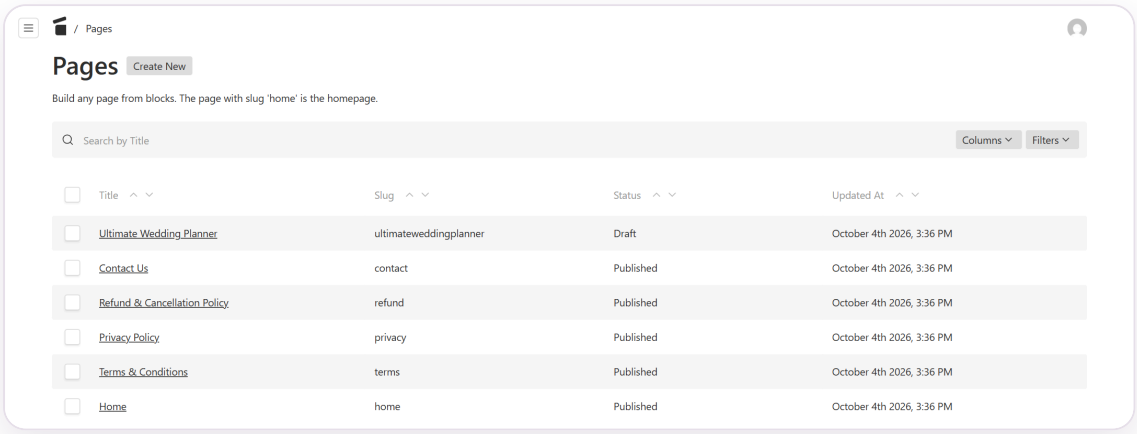

After paying, customers see download buttons straight away and receive an email with the same links. Each link is personal to their order, and the actual file link expires after 10 minutes, so it can't be shared around freely. To release a new version, upload the new file and select it on the product. Past buyers' links then give them the new version too.

CHAPTER 6

Building new pages

06

Pages are built from sections stacked on top of each other, like page-builder blocks in WordPress. Use them for your homepage, new landing pages (e.g. `/ultimateweddingplanner`), the legal pages and anything else.

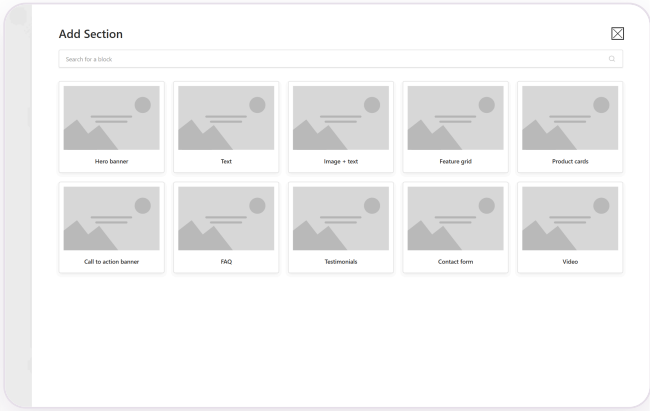

Content → Pages

Create a page

1. Content → Pages → Create new.
2. Type a Title and a Slug. The slug `ultimateweddingplanner` gives you `pandoratemplates.com/ultimateweddingplanner`.
3. Under Page sections, click Add Section and pick a section type. Fill it in and add as many as you like.
4. Open the SEO tab and write the Google title and description.
5. Save draft while you work. Click Publish changes when it's ready to go live.

Editing a page

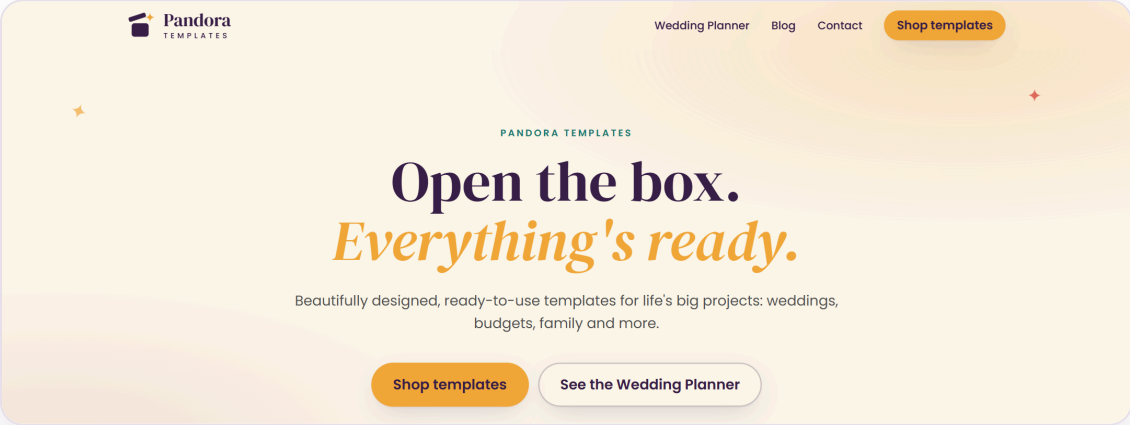

"Add Section": the 10 section types

Section	Use it for
Hero banner	Big headline at the top of a page, with up to two buttons and an optional image
Text	Formatted writing: headings, lists, links, images (great for legal pages)
Image + text	A picture beside a paragraph and a button. Choose which side the image goes.
Feature grid	Cards with an icon, title and text
Product cards	Your products with price and a "View" link. Leave empty to show all products.
Call to action banner	A coloured strip with a heading and one button (plum, teal or cream)
FAQ · Testimonials	Questions and answers, or customer reviews
Contact form · Video	A contact form, or a large video

Your homepage

The page with the slug `home` is your homepage. Edit it like any other page. A draft example of `/ultimateweddingplanner` is already in your Pages list: edit it, then click Publish. Page addresses can't clash, so the admin warns you if a slug is already used by another page or product.

The homepage, built from sections

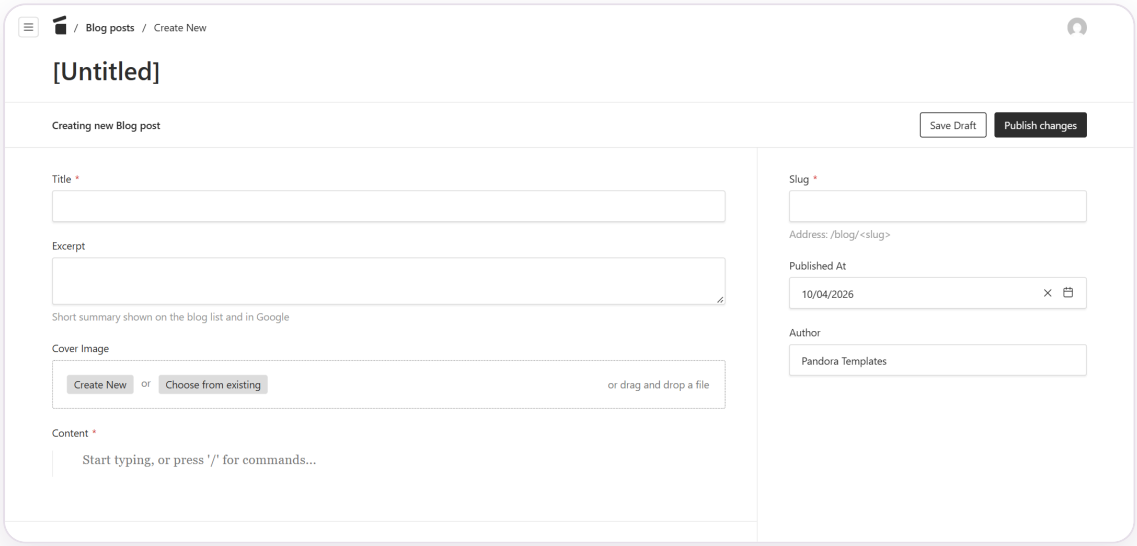

CHAPTER 7

Writing blog posts

07

Blog posts bring free visitors from Google, for example from people searching "how to plan a wedding budget". Each post gets its own page at `/blog/<slug>` and appears on `/blog`.

1. Content → Blog posts → Create new.
2. Add a Title, a short Excerpt (shown in the blog list and on Google) and a Cover image.
3. Write in the Content box. Type `/` for headings, lists, quotes or images, and select text to make it bold or add a link.
4. In the right-hand column, check the Slug and Published at date.
5. Click Publish changes.

Writing a blog post

SEO tips

Use the words people actually search for in the title and first paragraph. Add sub-headings every few paragraphs. Always link to `/wedding_planner` where it fits naturally. A sample draft post is waiting in your Blog posts list.

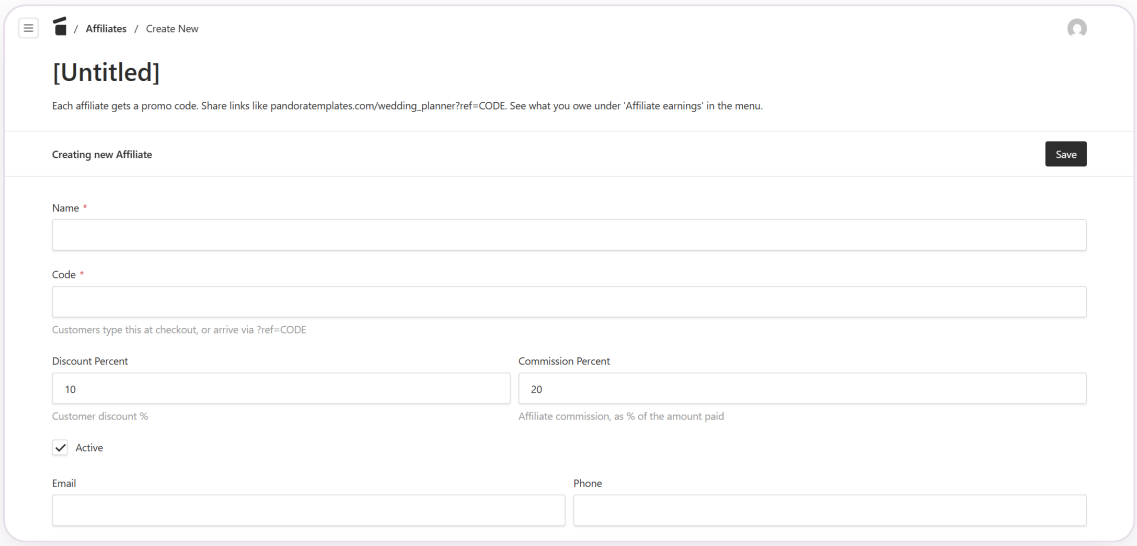

CHAPTER 8

Affiliates and promo codes 08

Give influencers, wedding planners or friends their own code. Their followers get a discount, they earn a commission, and the website tracks it all for you.

Add an affiliate

1. Shop → Affiliates → Create new.
2. Enter their Name and a Code (3–30 letters or numbers, e.g. `PRIYA10`).
3. Set the Customer discount % (what buyers save) and the Commission % (what you pay the affiliate, worked out from the amount the customer actually paid).
4. Add their contact details and Payout details (UPI ID or bank details), then click Save.

Creating an affiliate

How customers use a code

- ✓ Referral link: share `pandoratemplates.com/wedding_planner?ref=PRIYA10`. The code is remembered for 30 days and applied automatically at checkout.
- ✓ Typing it: at checkout, customers click Have a promo code? and enter it.
- ✓ Discounts stack on top of a running offer, e.g. offer ₹2,100 - 10% = ₹1,890.

Checkout with a referral code applied automatically

Paying commission

1. Open ☰ menu → 💰 Affiliate earnings. You'll see each affiliate's sales, revenue, commission earned and the amount owed. Use the date filter for a month's report.
2. Pay the affiliate the "Owed" amount by UPI or bank transfer.
3. Click Mark as paid. Their owed amount resets to ₹0 and starts building up again from their next sale.

Affiliate earnings: what you owe each affiliate, at a glance

Pausing a code

Untick Active on an affiliate to stop their code working. Their past sales and earnings stay on record.

CHAPTER 9

Orders and contact messages 09
